

SIMPLE TIPS

1. Find individuals with suspicious buying patterns, and begin to monitor their purchase activity.

2.

Identify smurf rings and make lists of associated persons with the manufacturers.

3.

Monitor multiple pharmacy locations in the area to observe suspicious purchases.

4.

Do all of this simultaneously, 24 hours a day, seven days a week, without ever leaving your desk chair.

NPLEX[®]

National Precursor Log Exchange

NPlex LE allows on-demand, real-time access to pharmacy logs from across the country via a Web site accessible from any PC with Internet connectivity.

Additionally, NPlex provides automated tools that give law enforcement the ability to monitor suspicious buying patterns and to "watch" specific individuals who exceed the legal limits imposed by federal or state law.

Since the State of Alabama adopted NPlex as its approved electronic tracking system I believe it has made it easier for Law Enforcement to investigate and proactively fight the "Smurfing" situation. I also feel it helps deter many of the people involved in the purchase of pseudoephedrine for illegal purposes.

COST. FREE OF CHARGE

NPlex is provided free of charge on a permanent basis to states that pass appropriate legislation and regulations. This includes implementation to all retailers, access to law enforcement, full 24/7 technical support, training for retailers and law enforcement, and maintenance and upgrades.

NPlex WORKS

The federal Combat Methamphetamine Epidemic Act of 2005 (CMEA,) as well as numerous state and local laws, require retailers of products containing pseudoephedrine and ephedrine to capture customer data at the point of sale. The pharmacy scans a government identification or enters the data into the secure NPlex portal. The information is transmitted instantly to the database where it is measured by federal, state and local gram limits, and returns a message through the retailer's POS to indicate if it is a legal purchase. The information is also made available in real-time for review by law enforcement.

Thanks to NPlex we were able to get into a location to stop the lab process before it got into the more hazardous stages of the cooking process. This increased officer safety, safety of those in the surrounding area where the potential lab was going to be utilized; and it gave us the ability to successfully charge the suspect with manufacturing methamphetamine.
